PROPHECY

1970 - WHAT WILL IT BE?

It is a tense moment as John Pearce, Malcolm Maness, and Douglas Crook adjust the last dial on their time machine. The time dial is set on 1970 as they stop and push the button.

The atmosphere is very quiet until the motors generate. The acceleration knocks them out temporarily. When they awake it is 1970 and their machine is stopped, however, the garage is still standing with a condemned sign hanging on the side of the building. They decide to get out of the machine, and once out, they begin to look around and see what their old friends are doing.

The first person they see is Ken Ford the newly elected Mayor of Waco. Our scientists walk on down the street and pass Smokey Farmer's cigar stand. Next door is the D & S (Dayton & Stapleton) shoe shine stand. As they look overhead they see a plane advertising the Mazwell, Riley, and Ferguson's Reducing Salon. Suddenly they hear an enormous roar; they look around to see Paul Constantine on his new jet propelled trash can, with a supersonic broom. He is the new street cleaner. They walk across the street and Maness barely escapes being squashed by one of Fickle's Pickles trucks. As they continue down the street they see a sign on one of the buildings which says Dudgeon's Drags. They will be held at Barkley's Bowl, the most popular drag strip in town. The group now catch one of (Randy) Turner's Taxis and proceed to the drags. The first turn on the way out is (Arthur) Bowman Blvd. As they approach the bowl, Charlie Shaw greets them with a smile and gives them a (A. C.) Pass which is worth one (Mary Ann) Shilling. After being seated they are introduced to some of the top drivers who are Jeannine McGinnis, world renown woman driver, David Rosen, who won last weeks time trials, Allen Myers and Penne Percy. After the drag, which ends about six o'clock, they decide to go eat. They ask a fellow spectator George Klaras, where there is a good place to eat. He recommends (Phyllis) Brooks Beanery, Chavarria's Chat and Chew, and Logans Lounge. They choose Logans Lounge because it is more convenient. Head waiter Jack Shelton escorts them to their table and calls waitress Ora Ann Pierce to take their order. After a fine meal, during which they see John Davis and Diane Cameron, who are seated at an adjoining table. As they leave they meet Amy Eysson, cashier, and pass the doorman Noah Appleton. They then see Jack Martin who gives them a free pass to his movie theater. They hail a taxi which zooms up and, much to their surprise, their old friend Ralph Klatt is driving.

"Martin's Majestic" is on the corner of (Martha) Albright Ave, and (Patsy) Balch Blvd. The current movie is "Gun Fight" at Kirkland Karal starring Kidd Karahal, Dot Bryan, John Mullen, and Betty Luedek r. They show their passes to Woody Hobbs, the head usher. They notice the two girls working at the concession stand, who are Jane Lyons and Linda Jackson. They are ushered in by Arthur Ninke. After seeing a wonderful movie they retire for the night at "Moundy's Motel."

After breakfast the next morning they take a dip at "Patterson's Pool." The lifeguards at the pool are Harold McCullough and Leverett Lawrence. Here they see friends Joel Ezar, Martha Campbell, Sharla Dockery, and Grover Rogers. They have a very refreshing swim.

In the afternoon they visit the (Marian) Barnes and (Jane) Berry Circus. They give their tickets to John Paul Splitts and enter the tent. The first act is the world famous clowns, Ronnie and Rodney Sommer. Then the Jumping Johnsons, who are, Chinky, Howell, Hariadene and Feggy, enter the scene. The arial act includes Robert Welch, Linda Shelby and Gary Roberts. The bareback riders are Tommy Carter and Donna Braswell.

After they leave the main tent they go to the side show and see the hypnotist Gene Farr. The chorus girls on another stage are Virginia Rushing, Jeanne Holland, Jo Anne Du Pre, Cathy White, Ann Stanley, Jackie Ozelle, Pam Moser, and Louise Chandler. The motorcycle act includes Tommy Meness, Tony Castillo and Thomas Campbell.

After leaving the circus the boys go to (Bobby) Crabbs Casino. The hat check girl is Joan Allen and Carolyn Belcher is the cigarette girl. After checking their hats and being shown to their tables by Ken Baker, they order their meal. They notice on the menu that the friendly chef is Pat Thomas. Just as they get their food, the floor show begins. The M.C. Hugh Wilfong introduces the first act, Barbara Williams and Ken Lipscombe singing (Jack) Ewing Nothing But a Hounddog. The second act is Bill and Dickie Deskin in a tumbling exhibition. The remaining part of the program includes the Daffy Donaldsons (Panzy & Harry), the world famous caricature painter Joyce Busby with her helper Clyde Busby.

The next morning they arise early and proceed to (Tommy) Barlag's bowling alley where they rent an alley from Guy Fogle. They bowl a few frames and then see Diana Hahn who is on the verge of bowling 300. They also meet pin boys Fritz Freeman and George Compton. On the way out they see two interns Sammy Owens and Phil Weaver carrying Charles McWhorter who has had an unfortunate accident of dropping a bowling ball on his toe.

After leaving the bowling alley, they go to the drugstore and buy three Purple (Pat) Paynes. They also order a (Pam) Utley sandwich. While eating they see their old friends Margaret Baker and Betty Buckler. The soda jerk is Vince Tusa and his helper Lloyd Szanto. Over the radio they hear sports announcer John Snider telling of today's major league baseball games.

Upon the arrival at (Tommy) Stroud's Stadium, they buy a ticket from Norman Thomas. They are ushered to their seats by Boy Scout leader Steve Brown. Sitting next to them are Waymon Little and Gwen Ewing. They notice the arrival of "Ruby" (Rex) Hoese the world famous boogie.

The teams are (Mike) Bothram, Browns (Steven) and Cronkrite's Cardinals.

Some of the outstanding players are Kenneth Butts, Ray Clark, Don Herring, Tom Archbold, Leroy Mitchell, Bobby Powell, Frank Neel, and Doyle Richards. The umpires are Tommy Niles, Jeremy Walker and Jan Thralls.

After the ballgame, they attend a stage performance of "Texas" starring Sa Golden, Mary Glenn, John Buchanan, Bonnie Burson and Joe Fulwiler.

The next morning they go to the electronic exhibit. Here they see fellow scientists Leland Howard, Charles Childress and J. R. Harrell. Other people visiting the exhibit are Susie and Virginia Rangel, Fred Salano, and Frank and Royes Sanchez.

In the afternoon they plan to visit their old school, West Junior. As they enter they meet teachers Tommye Ruth Blair, Harold Jobs, Martha Mull and the principal Bill . . . ton. They are taken on a tour of the school by Joan Beaty the guidance counselor, and John Danzeiser the science teacher.

Thoroughly exhausted, they return to their motel room. As they walk in Marsha Mixson is cleaning their room and Tommy Lisenbe is washing the windows.

Several of their old friends, after hearing that they are in town, invite them to go boat riding on the newly constructed Lake Waco. They are Sharon McCarthy, Mark Otterstad, Betty Vaughn, Dixie Terry, and Leroy Jines. In the car on the way to the lake they hear a song by the new teenage sensations Louis McKinney, George York, and Randy Farrar, known as the "Three Notes." Cruising around the lake they meet Captain (Joey) Clisham with a boat full of passengers. These passengers are Delores Clifton, Linda Davis, Ralph Gray and Tom Haffard.

Then they stop at Pack's Picnic Grounds and eat some (Gaelyn) Corbin's crisp potato chips and Gooch's Goobers. After eating, quickly they decide to play volley ball with a Vela volleyball.

After returning to the motel, they go to Whittington's White Owl. While there they see Lyda Stodghill, Leslie Hanks and Janice Boehme. There they spend an enjoyable evening.

The next morning, bright and early, they go for a walk in (Marilyn) Clemens Park. With them are fellow hikers William Lipsey, Leon Meadows, Lenna Coates, Patsy Peeples, and Jerry Clark. Their guide is James New. They pitch Camp (Deweyetta)! Former Eagle Scout Marvin Schutza shows them how to make a fire and Jerry Russell cooks lunch. They see three friends Dorothy Horton, Peggy Judd and Beatrice Little out bicycling.

There they hear rifle shots and they wander over and find a rifle range. The manager Woody Beshear, invites them to watch a match between defending champion, Tommy Stewart, and the challenger, Roy Merlow. In the women's division are Pat Carpenter, and Nancy Stiteler. Other spectators are Billy Walsleben, Jane Marsh, John Turner, and Ronny Morris.

They pass a riding stable and decide to try their skill as Rider(s) (Sandra). They talk to co-owners, Richard Saenz and James Joseph. They mount their Stead'(s) (Sally) and head for the bridle path. Here they meet Howard Keele, Larry Jones, Mary Kiser, Carlton Harrell, and Barbara Haurel.

For a refresher, they stop at Simpson's Soda Shoppe. The waitresses are Gretchen Scharf, Carol Fisher, and Karon Shinault. The dish-washer is Billy Hays. A few of the guests are Beth Freeman, Georgia Combs, Jo Ann Squires, Nancy Stanfill, David Hamlin, and James Saunders.

After returning their horses to the stable, they go back to town. Here they walk around the commercial district. They meet shoppers Irene Riley, Patsy Douglas, Jeannie Dickerson, Ann Goodman, Clara Sue Griffis, Linda Hardwick, Betty Boatwright and Susan Harkness. They pass Brogden Bootery which carries Fulwiler Footwear and Cargill's clothes for women. They go in Cargill's and see a fashion show featuring models Pamela Edmondson, Mary Glenn, Jennie Hill, Patsy Stevens, and Jerry Rowan. The moderators are Carolyn Carr and Faye Childs.

The scientists decide to return to the garage where they left the space ship. They board the bus which is driven by Jerry Miller. Some of the passengers are Battinel Womack, Sandra Wooten, Norma Pillow, Maxine Reppold, Patricia Smith, Patsy McGlaughn, Alice Luevano, and Betty Clark.

They reach the garage and take off in their time machine.

After reaching home they cannot wait to tell the story to their friends. They have a party that night and the first group to arrive is Kay Ulrich, Martha Lacy, Pat Malone, James Monteith, Louise Koechig, Ann Kimbriel and Margaret Wood and their Dates.

The story is soon spread around the party and everyone has an enjoyable time.
